Dear Sirs:

I write in connection with your collection of amphora stamps. Between 1971 and 1975 we had some correspondence about the collection, and you sent us a series of drawings based on rubbings of the stamps; most of your letters came from B. Hartwell.

Because of continual pressure toward publication during those years, partly also because of a wish to improve what we wanted to send you, we have not sent you, up to now, any readings or comments on this material, despite our concern for those who live in troubled areas.

Now at last I enclose:

- 1) readings of the stamps, in order of their inventory (?) numbers,
- 2) an alphabetical list of the names on the stamps, by geographical class (Rhodian, etc.),
- 3) a copy of an article, "Un groupe d'amphores ptolémaïques estampillées", in which, on p.411, Belfast Mus. no. 544 is cited,
- 4) one or two other recent publications on the subject of amphora stamps, which may be of interest as background for this part of your collection. It is nice to think of it as having been gathered by the chaplain of Alexandria, in the late 19th century. What was his name? I know the church, which has various mementoes of those days.

Yours sincerely,

Virginia Grace

ARCHAEOLOGICAL MATERIAL IN THE TEACHING COLLECTION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ARCHAEOLOGY, QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY, BELFAST

by J. F. RUSSELL

To provide for courses ranging from world prehistory to recent times, a small but comprehensive collection of material relevant to the lecture syllabuses has been built up over the years. From a small departmental collection it has grown by the addition of donations and exchanges, the most important of the former being the acquisition of the collection of Pre-classical and Classical material from the old Greek and Latin Departmental Museum.

The Teaching Collection has been arranged in the Archaeology Departmental Practicals Demonstration Room at 16 University Square, by Mr J. Russell. A card index for it is in course of completion and may be consulted on application to the Department.

THE PREHISTORIC COLLECTION (Cases 1, 2, 2a, 3 and 4)

Palaeolithic. Acheulian hand-axes (32); Clactonian flake-tools (8); a few blade tools (mainly from England, France, Africa).

Mesolithic. Small quantity of picks and microliths (England); a few blades and scrapers (north of Ireland); Larnian cores, picks, flakes (130).

Neolithic. Flint axe roughouts, axes, adzes (80); many flint cores, flakes, including several Bann flakes, miscellaneous and hollow scrapers (17), arrowheads (21), hammerstones, fabricators. A few flakes, axe roughouts, axes, adzes (48), some from Tievebulliagh and Rathlin, stone mawls, hammerheads, maceheads (13). Lyles Hill and Sandhills ware sherds (28) (all from north of Ireland and England). Flint sickles, knives (Scandinavia). A few chert and flint arrowheads (Texan and Hopewell Cultures, North America); several Indian sherds (North America). Sherds (80) (Brittany, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Roumania, Portugal, Malta). Several bone awls, needles (unlocalised).

Bronze Age. Quantity of flint, flakes, blades, scrapers, arrowheads. Pots (3): two food vessels, one overhanging rim urn; sherds (40): decorated and encrusted urns, decorated wares. Bronze palstaves and sword (mainly from north of Ireland). Several sherds (Austria and Malta).

Iron Age. Chariot hub-band and lynch-pin; sherds (49): 'A', 'B' and 'C' phases (England). Bronze horse leading-piece (unlocalised, Ireland). A few burnt stone and clay fragments from vitrified forts (Scotland).

Some sherds (France and Austria). A few clay mouldings (south Italy).

THE PRE-CLASSICAL COLLECTION

I EGYPT (Cases 1, 2a, 5)

Predynastic. Flint arrowheads, scraper and flakes; granite basin; busts of clay figurines (9); sherds (4) and pots (9) (pottery from El Mahasna, Lower Egypt, remainder unlocalised).

Dynastic. (Some localised) Old Kingdom (14 pots, terracotta ram, wooden headrest, VI dyn., Abydos). First Intermediate (4 pots). Middle Kingdom (3 pots). Second Intermediate (7 pots). New Kingdom (4 pots, 1 of alabaster, 2 alabaster sherds, 12 glazed sherds; a few ushabtis; copper leather-cutter and tweezers, part of XVIII dyn. incomplete tomb group; faience glazed scarabs (2), amulets (2); plaque fragment with cartouche of Rameses II; glazed plaque fragment with hieroglyph; faience glazed miniatures of Anubis, Bes; bronze miniatures of Osiris and Isis; speculum miniature of Horus; clay representation of Thot).

Late Period. (Terracotta bust of Apis, Memphis; ushabtis (250), XXI-XXX dyn.; double-head of Hathor in clay; several model animals in clay and stone). Ptolemaic and Roman (see under Classical Collection). Coptic (several ostraka with Coptic graffiti).

II JORDAN, MESOPOTAMIA AND THE INDUS VALLEY CIVILIZATION (Case 5)

A few sherds and flint adze, Ghassulian Culture (Teliat Ghassul, Jordan). Several painted and decorated sherds, a few sickle flints, cuneiform inscribed tablet of Sin-Gashid (last from Erech, others from Al Ubeid and Kish, Mesopotamia). Sherds (25); number of miscellaneous clay items; clay model of a cart (Mohenjo-daro).

THE CLASSICAL COLLECTION

I GREECE (Cases 2b, 6)

Archaic Neolithic. Dimini and Sesklo ware sherds (22) (a few from Dimini, Sesklo, Pyrasus); many obsidian flakes and worked flints (Lipari Islands and Melos).

Bronze Age. Minoan ware sherds (28) (a few from Vasiliki); pots (2) and a few sherds (from Mt. Iuktas, Crete); Early Helladic (12), Middle Helladic, Grey Minyan (80), Yellow Minyan (7) and Matt-painted (21) sherds (mainly from Aietopetra, Asine, Aegina, Eleftherion, Gonia, Halia, Heraeum, Korakou, Mycenae); Mycenaean sherds (130) (mainly from Antheron, Asine, Eleftherion, Halia, Knossos, Mycenae, Tiryns); Macedonian Bronze Age sherds (Apanami, Hagia, Kalamaria, Molybopgyro, Orchomenus, Vardaroftsa); Cypriot Bronze Age sherds (6) (Citium); vases (5) and a few bronze dagger blades and bracelets (unlocalised, Cyprus).

Iron Age. Small sherd groups (Bucchero ware from Molyvros and Lesbos); Macedonian ware sherds (Ohrid, Illyria) and a few matt-painted sherds (Lembert, Micyberna), spindle-whorls and loomweights (Macedonia); Cypriot Iron Age sherds (from Kouklia (2) and Amathus (60)), small pots (5), tablet seal (unlocalised); Geometric, Proto-Corinthian and Corinthian sherds (26) (mainly from Aspledon, Mycalessus, Perachora, Sunium, Tegira); Corinthian vases (6) (3 from Smyrna, three unlocalised).

Classical. Attic black and red figure sherds (44); a few black glazed sherds (unlocalised). The following Attic vases (some from Smyrna): perfume vase in form of a goddess, black figure Kylixes and lekythos (3); palmette and white ground dec. lekythoi (5); gold painted cup, black-glazed cups, chalices, miniature vase, small alabastron (Acragas, Sicily) (14); black band painted cups, oinochoe (6); pyxis (2); handled cup in coarse ware (Aegina). Inscribed tombstone with figure of man and dog. Sculpture fragments (Smyrna).

Hellenistic and Ptolemaic. Vases and cups, black-glazed (5), oinochoe and vessel lids (some from Smyrna); grey and red ware vases (5), lamps (5) (unlocalised). Amphora handles (80) (some marked 'Alexandria', others from the Greek Islands); lamps (2) (unlocalised).

II THE ROMAN WORLD (Cases 3a, 3b, 4 and 7).

Pottery (coarse wares). Amphorae sherds (15) (Monte Testaccio, Rome; Sabratha, North Africa; Uriconium, England). Mortaria sherds (6) (Uriconium); red ware mortarium and miscellaneous sherds (Sbeitla, Tunisia). Several terra-nigra and white ware Gallo-Belgic butt-beaker and platter sherds (Camulodunum, England). A few colour-coated ware sherds (Tallington, Lincs). Some 'Upchurch' ware sherds (Uriconium). The following sherds and pots: Needham, Norfolk, large quantity; Silchester, Hants; Castle Hill; Tallington, Lincs, neck, shoulder of jug; Stanground Nene Valley Kilns, kiln wasters; Spain; miniature pots (2) from London. Group of coarse and fine ware sherds (25) (Woodeaton Roman Temple, Oxon.). Grave group comprising coarse and terra-sigillata sherd forms 27, 38 (Heidelberg - Neuenheim, Germany).

Pottery (fine wares). The following terra-sigillata sherds (13): forms 18/31, 24, 26, 27, 28, 29, 31, 37, 38, 79; and bases stamped 'Regini, Laxtucissa', 'Ottaci' (Uriconium); sherds (16) including 5 with probably spurious graffiti, forms 27, 29, 36, 37 (labelled 'London uncertain') and sherd, form 27 (Richborough, Kent); a few sherds, forms uncertain (Camulodunum, Essex and Needham, Norfolk); several sherds, forms 18/31, 37 (Babe, Yugoslavia); sherd, form uncertain (Rio Tinto, Southern Spain). Eastern Sigillata 'A' and 'B' ware sherds (5) (unlocalised but with origin in Asia Minor). A few sherds of red ware and Arretine ware (Ampurias and Nerva, Spain, respectively). Some sherds of red-slipped ware (unlocalised; probably North Africa). Sherds of Pre-Campana and Campana ware (6) (Sabratha, North Africa). Handled cup, barbotine decoration (unlocalised but of Italian origin). Lamps (32) (Egypt, Cyprus, Ionia, Italy). Late Roman pots (24) (Ibrim, Nubia); bowl, small flasks (2), decorated sherds, lamps (10) (unlocalised, Egypt).

Building Materials. Legionary tile inscribed '4th cohort of ...' (unlocalised); wall tile stamped with lion in relief (North Africa); a few flue-tiles, roofing slate, paving tiles (Uriconium); several mosaic pavement fragments (Rome, Capri, Uriconium); a few marble wall veneers and mouldings (Sabratha, north Africa); a few pieces of concrete (Castle Hill, England, and Monaco); fragments of wattle and daub walling and painted wall plaster (6) (Uriconium).

Objects of Ivory, Bone, Shale, Clay, Stone, Terracotta. Ivory and bone pins and gaming counters (10) (Crocodylopolis, Fayum, Egypt); ivory dice box (Ibrim, Nubia); bone knife handle, box casings (2), pins (8), needles (3) (mainly from Uriconium). Shale and clay spindle-whorls (4) (Uriconium). Turned shale discs (8) and a few flint shale-turning tools (Kimmeridge, Dorset). Stone mining-hammers (Majdnapek, Yugoslavia). Marble heads of Bacchus (1), of a man (portrait?) and Zeus (2); also limestone head of this god. Terracottas of human heads and figures, some representing gods and goddesses, others probably portraits and animals (60) (all probably from Egypt).

Objects of Bronze, Iron and Lead. Bronze lamp, patera (handle missing), patera handle, hook and attached ring, spoon, bracelet, eraser, pin, length of chain, model dog (all unlocalised). Ladle and bowl (Ibrim, Nubia). Iron punch, ploughshare, clamp, nails (7), staples (2), rings (4), styli (3), keys (5). Lead weight, waterpipe section, ingot (mainly from Uriconium). Glassware. Large and medium sized flasks, toilet flasks (15) (Cyprus and Mediterranean area); several glassware sherds (Uriconium, England, Ampurias, Spain, Monte Testaccio, Italy); window-glass sherds (Uriconium).

Coinage. Imperial copper, silver and gold coins (list in Dept.). Gold coins held by Ulster Museum (copy of list in Dept.).

THE DARK AGES, MEDIEVAL AND POST-MEDIEVAL COLLECTION (Case 8)

Dark Ages. Saxon spearhead and loomweight (England). Quernstone fragments (3) (Irish Early Christian sites); fragments of wattle and daub walling (2) (probably Ireland).

Medieval. Sherds (England, 29 of 10th - 15th century; France (19); Holland (6); Germany (44); Italy (1); Balkans (10). All the French, Dutch and German sherds are kiln wasters. A few Islamic and Byzantine sherds (North Africa and Jordan). Islamic and Byzantine lamps (Palestine and unlocalised).

Post Medieval Miscellaneous sherds (England and Ireland); bronze pins (north of Ireland); bronze buckle (unlocalised); clay pipe bowl fragment (Germany).

Unfortunately for teaching purposes there are still large gaps in the Collection. This is especially so in the Prehistoric Section, the most important from the teaching aspect, where we would like to acquire pottery and metalwork, if possible from excavated sites in the British Isles and Western Europe. No attempt has or is being made to obtain intrinsically valuable objects, our requirements in this respect being met by the making of copies of fine metal and other objects in the Departmental Conservation Laboratory.

Anyone who knows of material available through exchange, purchase or donation should contact Mr B. C. S. Wilson at the Department.

Dear M. Petropoulakou,

With reference to the stamped amphorae handles in the Teaching Collection of the Department of Archaeology, the Queen's University of Belfast, and your letter of 1 March 1974.

Please find enclosed a copy of a letter, J.F. Russell's article listing the material in the Teaching Collection, and the revised catalogue of stamped amphorae handles. These were all posted together on 9 May 1974 but do not seem to have reached you.

I look forward to hearing from you again.

Yours sincerely,

Bami Hartwell

Dear M. Petropoulakou,

With reference to the stamped Amphorae Handles in the Collection of the Department of Archaeology, The Queen's University of Belfast. Thank you for your letter of 1 March 1974.

Since completing the catalogue of 17 April 1973 several more handles have come to light and so I have taken this opportunity to review my previous drawings. As a result, I have made a few minor changes, included the new drawings, the permanent accession numbers, and added relevant information. The enclosed catalogue of 25 April 1974 therefore cancels the previous one.

The drawings themselves are inked-in rubbings which have been photo-copied. They are therefore presented full size and include as much information as possible. Without exception, the original designs on the stamped handles are in relief.

I have included a copy of J. F. Russell's article listing the material in the Teaching Collection, however the following extract from the 'Catalogue of the Museum of the Department of Archaeology, 16.5.1910' by T. K. Frost is of interest:

"B. Collection of Amphora Handles

26-50 Inscribed with city marks and names of Magistrates from the Greek Islands. They were collected about 20 years ago by the then Chaplain at Alexandria. They are mostly from jars in which wine was imported and date from the Ptolemies, Mark Anthony and the Early Empire. Some show the action of the sea.'

In 1909 K. T. Frost became the first lecturer in Archaeology and Ancient History and Curator of the Departmental Museum (which was then part of the School of Classics). Most of the ex-Classical Collection is now held by the present Department of Archaeology, the School of Classics having evolved into separate departments.

M. Petropoulakou.

Eleven handles in all 'show the action of the sea', and there is much evidence to suggest that the handles were broken off only recently, presumably when first collected.

I trust that this information will be of value to Miss Grace and yourself and I look forward to hearing from you again.

Yours sincerely,

B. Hartwell.

THE DARK AGES, MEDIEVAL AND POST-MEDIEVAL COLLECTION (Case 8)

Dark Ages. Saxon spearhead and loomweight (England). Quernstone fragments (3) (Irish Early Christian sites); fragments of wattle and daub walling (2) (probably Ireland). Medieval. Sherds (England, 29 of 10th - 15th century; France (19); Holland (6); Germany (44); Italy (1); Balkans (10). All the French, Dutch and German sherds are kiln wasters. A few Islamic and Byzantine sherds (North Africa and Jordan). Islamic and Byzantine lamps (Palestine and unlocalised).

Post Medieval. Miscellaneous sherds (England and Ireland); bronze pins (north of Ireland); bronze buckle (unlocalised); clay pipe bowl fragment (Germany).

Unfortunately for teaching purposes there are still large gaps in the Collection. This is especially so in the Prehistoric Section, the most important from the teaching aspect, where we would like to acquire pottery and metalwork, if possible from excavated sites in the British Isles and Western Europe. No attempt has or is being made to obtain intrinsically valuable objects, our requirements in this respect being met by the making of copies of fine metal and other objects in the Departmental Conservation Laboratory.

Anyone who knows of material available through exchange, purchase or donation should contact Mr B. C. S. Wilson at the Department.

Dear Mr. Hartwell,

On behalf of Miss V. Grace I thank you very much for your letter of November 1973. I regret very much to tell you that we did not receive the copy of the "Archaeological Material in the Teaching Collection of the Department of Archaeology, The Queen's University Belfast" (U.J.A., vol. XXXII, 1969) by J.F. Russell, sent to us by Mr. Wilson as you mentioned in your letter.

As soon as Miss V. Grace will be back in Athens I will identify and classify the amphora handles of your Collection through your very good drawings. I would be very glad to have rubbings of the stamps you did not see much of the inscription. Are the numbers of your drawings the inventory numbers of the Collection?

Sincerely yours

Miss Grace,

Athens 140
Greece.

Dear Miss Grace,

We received a letter in January 1971 from Mrs D.E. Clinkenbeard inquiring into our collection of stamped amphorae handles. Mr B.C.S. Wilson sent a copy of 'Archaeological Material in the Teaching Collection of the Department of Archaeology, The Queen's University Belfast' by J.F. Russell (U.J.A., Vol. XXXII, 1969) in which reference is made to 'Amphorae handles (80)' (same marked 'Alexandria', Athens from the Greek Islands). This material comes from the Classical Department Collection, and was not provenanced when we acquired it.

I have now drawn all the 80 inscriptions, and a further two Roman stamps and two seals which may be of interest. A copy is included for your own use and I would be very grateful if you could identify the inscriptions.

It is hoped eventually to publish them, either in the 'Ulster Journal of Archaeology' or a more relevant publication.

I look forward to hearing from you with regard to identification and publication. If I can be of further assistance, such as in the supply of photographs, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours faithfully,

Barrie Hartwell

ARCHAEOLOGICAL MATERIAL IN THE TEACHING COLLECTION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ARCHAEOLOGY,
QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY, BELFAST

by J. F. RUSSELL

To provide for courses ranging from world prehistory to recent times, a small but comprehensive collection of material relevant to the lecture syllabuses has been built up over the years. From a small departmental collection it has grown by the addition of donations and exchanges, the most important of the former being the acquisition of the collection of Pre-classical and Classical material from the old Greek and Latin Departmental Museum.

The Teaching Collection has been arranged in the Archaeology Departmental Practicals Demonstration Room at 16 University Square, by Mr J. Russell. A card index for it is in course of completion and may be consulted on application to the Department.

THE PREHISTORIC COLLECTION (Cases 1, 2, 2a, 3 and 4)

Palaeolithic. Acheulian hand-axes (32); Clactonian flake-tools (8); a few blade tools (mainly from England, France, Africa).

Mesolithic. Small quantity of picks and microliths (England); a few blades and scrapers (north of Ireland); Larnian cores, picks, flakes (130).

Neolithic. Flint axe roughouts, axes, adzes (80); many flint cores, flakes, including several Bann flakes, miscellaneous and hollow scrapers (17), arrowheads (21), hammerstones, fabricators. A few flakes, axe roughouts, axes, adzes (48), some from Tievebullagh and Rathlin, stone mawls, hammerheads, maceheads (13). Lyles Hill and Sandhills ware sherds (28) (all from north of Ireland and England). Flint sickles, knives (Scandinavia). A few chert and flint arrowheads (Texan and Hopewell Cultures, North America); several Indian sherds (North America). Sherds (80) (Brittany, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Roumania, Portugal, Malta). Several bone awls, needles (unlocalised).

Bronze Age. Quantity of flint, flakes, blades, scrapers, arrowheads. Pots (3): two food vessels, one overhanging rim urn; sherds (40): decorated and encrusted urns, decorated wares. Bronze palstaves and sword (mainly from north of Ireland). Several sherds (Austria and Malta).

Iron Age. Chariot hub-band and lynch-pin; sherds (49): 'A', 'B' and 'C' phases (England). Bronze horse leading-piece (unlocalised, Ireland). A few burnt stone and clay fragments from vitrified forts (Scotland).

Some sherds (France and Austria). A few clay mouldings (south Italy).

THE PRE-CLASSICAL COLLECTION

I EGYPT (Cases 1, 2a, 5)

Predynastic. Flint arrowheads, scraper and flakes; granite basin; busts of clay figurines (9); sherds (4) and pots (9) (pottery from El Mahasna, Lower Egypt, remainder unlocalised).

Dynastic. (Some localised) Old Kingdom (14 pots, terracotta ram, wooden headrest, VI dyn., Abydos). First Intermediate (4 pots). Middle Kingdom (3 pots). Second Intermediate (7 pots). New Kingdom (4 pots, 1 of alabaster, 2 alabaster sherds, 12 glazed sherds; a few ushabtis; copper leather-cutter and tweezers, part of XVIII dyn. incomplete tomb group; faience glazed scarabs (2), amulets (2); plaque fragment with cartouche of Rameses II; glazed plaque fragment with hieroglyph; faience glazed miniatures of Anubis, Bes; bronze miniatures of Osiris and Isis; speculum miniature of Horus; clay representation of Thot).

Late Period. (Terracotta bust of Apis, Memphis; ushabtis (250), XXI - XXX dyn.; double-head of Hathor in clay; several model animals in clay and stone). Ptolemaic and Roman (see under Classical Collection). Coptic (several ostraka with Coptic graffiti).

II JORDAN, MESOPOTAMIA AND THE INDUS VALLEY CIVILIZATION (Case 5)

A few sherds and flint adze, Ghassulian Culture (Teliat Ghassul, Jordan). Several painted and decorated sherds, a few sickle flints, cuneiform inscribed tablet of Sin-Gashid (last from Erech, others from Al Ubeid and Kish, Mesopotamia). Sherds (25); number of miscellaneous clay items; clay model of a cart (Mohenjo-daro).

THE CLASSICAL COLLECTION

I GREECE (Cases 2b, 6)

Archaic Neolithic. Dimini and Sesklo ware sherds (22) (a few from Dimini, Sesklo, Pyrasus); many obsidian flakes and worked flints (Lipari Islands and Melos).

Bronze Age. Minoan ware sherds (28) (a few from Vasiliki); pots (2) and a few sherds (from Mt. Iuktas, Crete); Early Helladic (12), Middle Helladic, Grey Minyan (80), Yellow Minyan (7) and Matt-painted (21) sherds (mainly from Aietopetra, Asine, Aegina, Eleftherion, Gonia, Halia, Heraeum, Korakou, Mycenae); Mycenaean sherds (130) (mainly from Antheron, Asine, Eleftherion, Halia, Knossos, Mycenae, Tiryns); Macedonian Bronze Age sherds (Apanami, Hagia, Kalamaria, Molybopgyro, Orcho-menius, Vardaroftsa); Cypriot Bronze Age sherds (6) (Citium); vases (5) and a few bronze dagger blades and bracelets (unlocalised, Cyprus).

Iron Age. Small sherd groups (Bucchero ware from Molyvros and Lesbos); Macedonian ware sherds (Ohrid, Illyria) and a few matt-painted sherds (Lembert, Micyberna), spindle-whorls and loom-weights (Macedonia); Cypriot Iron Age sherds (from Kouklia (2) and Amathus (60)), small pots (5), tablet seal (unlocalised); Geometric, Proto-Corinthian and Corinthian sherds (26) (mainly from Aspledon, Mycalessus, Perachora, Sunium, Tegira); Corinthian vases (6) (3 from Smyrna, three unlocalised).

Classical. Attic black and red figure sherds (44); a few black glazed sherds (unlocalised). The following Attic vases (some from Smyrna): perfume vase in form of a goddess, black figure Kylixes and lekythos (3); palmette and white ground dec. lekythoi (5); gold painted cup, black-glazed cups, chalices, miniature vase, small alabastron (Acragas, Sicily) (14); black band painted cups, oinochoe (6); pyxis (2); handled cup in coarse ware (Aegina). Inscribed tombstone with figure of man and dog. Sculpture fragments (Smyrna).

Hellenistic and Ptolemaic. Vases and cups, black-glazed (5), oinochoe and vessel lids (some from Smyrna); grey and red ware vases (5), lamps (5) (unlocalised). Amphora handles (80) (some marked 'Alexandria', others from the Greek Islands); lamps (2) (unlocalised).

II THE ROMAN WORLD (Cases 3a, 3b, 4 and 7).

Pottery (coarse wares). Amphorae sherds (15) (Monte Testaccio, Rome; Sabratha, North Africa; Uriconium, England). Mortaria sherds (6) (Uriconium); red ware mortarium and miscellaneous sherds (Sbeitla, Tunisia). Several terra-nigra and white ware Gallo-Belgic butt-beaker and platter sherds (Camulodunum, England). A few colour-coated ware sherds (Tallington, Lincs). Some 'Upchurch' ware sherds (Uriconium). The following sherds and pots: Needham, Norfolk, large quantity; Silchester, Hants; Castle Hill; Tallington, Lincs, neck, shoulder of jug; Stanground Nene Valley Kilns, kiln wasters; Spain; miniature pots (2) from London. Group of coarse and fine ware sherds (25) (Woodeaton Roman Temple, Oxon.). Grave group comprising coarse and terra-sigillata sherd forms 27, 38 (Heidelberg - Neuenheim, Germany).

Pottery (fine wares). The following terra-sigillata sherds (13): forms 18/31, 24, 26, 27, 28, 29, 31, 37, 38, 79; and bases stamped 'Regini, Laxtucissa', 'Ottaci' (Uriconium); sherds (16) including 5 with probably spurious graffiti, forms 27, 29, 36, 37 (labelled 'London 80 A.D.'): sherd, form 45 (Castle Hill, locality uncertain) and sherd, form 27 (Richborough, Kent); a few sherds, forms uncertain (Camulodunum, Essex and Needham, Norfolk); several sherds, forms 18/31, 37 (Babe, Yugoslavia); sherd, form uncertain (Rio Tinto, Southern Spain). Eastern Sigillata 'A' and 'B' ware sherds (5) (unlocalised but with origin in Asia Minor). A few sherds of red ware and Arretine ware (Ampurias and Nerva, Spain, respectively). Some sherds of red-slipped ware (unlocalised; probably North Africa). Sherds of Pre-Campana and Campana ware (6) (Sabratha, North Africa). Handled cup, barbotine decoration (unlocalised but of Italian origin). Lamps (32) (Egypt, Cyprus, Ionia, Italy). Late Roman pots (24) (Ibrim, Nubia); bowl, small flasks (2), decorated sherds, lamps (10) (unlocalised, Egypt).

Building Materials. Legionary tile inscribed '4th cohort of ...' (unlocalised); wall tile stamped with lion in relief (North Africa); a few flue-tiles, roofing slate, paving tiles (Uriconium); several mosaic pavement fragments (Rome, Capri, Uriconium); a few marble wall veneers and mouldings (Sabratha, north Africa); a few pieces of concrete (Castle Hill, England, and Monaco); fragments of wattle and daub walling and painted wall plaster (6) (Uriconium).

Objects of Ivory, Bone, Shale, Clay, Stone, Terracotta. Ivory and bone pins and gaming counters (10) (Crocodylopolis, Fayum, Egypt); ivory dice box (Ibrim, Nubia); bone knife handle, box casings (2), pins (8), needles (3) (mainly from Uriconium). Dear Mr. Wilson,

In the course of correspondence in 1969 between Mr. B. Shefton and Miss Virginia Grace of the American School of Classical Studies, Athens, mention was made of a big collection of stamped amphora handles located in Belfast. Your name and that of Prof. E.M.Jope were given as the people to contact for further information.

Could you describe the collection for Miss Grace - the approximate number of handles (50? - 100? - 200?)? And has any notice of them ever been published?

Miss Grace is indebted to Mr. Shefton for this information, and hopes that you can add to it more specifically.

Yours sincerely,

(Mrs. David E. Clinkenbeard)

Inquire about these handles.

Say Mr. Brian Shefton was good enough to inform Miss Grace about the collection in ^Belfast, and to give her the proper address to which to write.

She would like to know the approximate number of handles in the collection; also whether any notice of them has been published.

COLLECTIONS - BELFAST

See the folder GRAVES AT LENORMANT STREET (in top drawer of CLASSES letterfile) for a correspondence with B. Shepton, who in the course of an inquiry on a detail of the bronze mirrors from Len. St., mentioned ^{in a p.c. dated 12.II.69} he had seen SATT in Belfast - "big collection ... Plouin etc. etc. some v. good - and from Alexandria (Lawrence Collection)" Writing on 17.II.69, he says the right person to write to on this SATT work is

Professor E.M. Jope, FBA

- or Mr. B.C.S. Wilson at the same address. Mr. Wilson is effectively in charge of the collection.

B. Shepton says he photographed a ~~the~~ selection of the handles and the photo. are at my disposal. ^{S.III.69} MS II wrote they wd be welcome, and might we pay for the prints. Apparently nothing further after this. Did he get that letter?

Dear Mrs. Petropoulakou,

Thank you very much for your letter of 5th March. I now enclose the photographs of the Belfast handles. There are many more even on show and I don't know how many there may be in storage. Altogether this lot is a very small chance selection. I hope the photographs will be of some use. Needless to say I should be most interested in what Miss Grace thinks of them. If you do write to Belfast to the people at the address which I mentioned in my letter of 17th February, it might just be an idea not to mention that I actually sent on photographs to you. The point is that though I have no doubt that Professor Jope^{Mr} and Professor Wilson will be only too delighted that I passed these photographs on to Miss Grace, I never actually asked them for formal permission to do so. No doubt you will be able to cope with this particular problem in the best way, perhaps just saying that I sent you ~~on~~ detailed descriptions and drawings of them. Please give my warmest regards to Miss Grace.

Yours sincerely,
